DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1, 4, 6, 8, 10, 13, 17, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Aoyama et al. (US 5,36,270) in view of Loughheed et al. (US 5,686,690) as set forth in the previous Office Action, paper No. 11.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 8/12/02 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The amendment to the claims filed on 8/12/02 does not comply with the requirements of 37 CFR 1.121(c) (3). The absence of an accompanying marked up version constitutes an assertion that the claim has not been changed relative to the immediate prior version; however, perusing the clean copy verse marked up copy, slight discrepancies were noted. Please correct.

The applicant argued that Loughheed does not calculate "motion vectors for a plurality of predetermined blocks", page 6 of the remarks.

The examiner respectfully disagrees with the applicant. It is further submitted that Loughheed discloses a change detection (110 of fig. 9) comprises a summation (112 of fig. 1) computes the difference in intensity between pixels in the current frame and the preceding frame and the detector (114 of fig. 9) to detect pixels in the current frame which have changed in intensity relative to the corresponding pixels in the previous frame and to detect changes caused by movement of potential targets; the output of the detector (114) is sent to the DSP (42 of fig. 10) to detect that motion detection initiated by operation of the Detect motion (132 and 134 of fig. 10), which is a motion vector (col. 15, lines 34-63), so that the user would obviously use DSP (42) to integrate the motion vector to azimuth and elevate the servomechanism (10 of fig. 1) to move in various motions. In view of the discussion above, the claimed features are unpatentable over Loughheed and the combination of Loughheed and Aoyama et al.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
